

Northwind Technologies - New Hire Onboarding Guide

1. Before Your First Day

You will receive a welcome email with your company account details two business days before you join. Complete the digital paperwork in the HR portal and upload your identity and education documents before day one so that payroll can be set up in your first week.

2. Day One

Your first day starts at 10:00 AM with an orientation session in the main meeting room or over video for remote joiners. You will collect your laptop and access badge from IT, set up multi-factor authentication, and meet your assigned onboarding buddy.

3. Your Onboarding Buddy

Every new hire is paired with an onboarding buddy from a different team for the first 30 days. Your buddy is not your manager and is there for informal questions. Buddies are asked to check in at least twice a week during the first month.

4. First Week Checklist

By the end of week one you should have: completed the security awareness training, joined your team's daily standup, been added to the relevant Slack channels and code repositories, submitted your bank details for payroll, and had a one-to-one with your reporting manager.

5. First 30, 60 and 90 Days

Your manager will agree goals with you in your first week. The 30 day review focuses on whether you have the access and context you need. The 60 day review focuses on your first independent piece of work. The 90 day review is the formal probation confirmation conversation.

6. Mandatory Training

Three courses must be completed within the first 14 days: security awareness, data protection and workplace conduct. Each takes about 45 minutes and is available in the learning portal. Completion is tracked and is a condition of probation confirmation.

7. Who to Ask

For payroll and leave questions contact people@northwind.example. For laptop and access issues raise a ticket with the IT helpdesk. For anything you are not sure about, ask your onboarding buddy first.
